Class History

In September of 1947, there arrived on the campus of Atkins 456 initiates. At that time they were unknowing and unknown. Despite handicaps they resolved to prove their worth.

Three years have passed since that memorable day in September, and many of that number have passed off the scene. Because this class is responsible for whatever pleasure you have received from reading this book, it is altogether fitting that you know something of its history.

The first real triumph of the freshmen came when the team of Vivian Lewis and Thomasina Caraway won their first debate from the sophmoore team. Ann Martin, Clarice Graham and Olivia Green made their debut as actresses on the Atkins stage in the first dramatic club production of that year, "The Zombie."

At the end of the first year, Josephine Audrey, Clarice Graham, Vivian Lewis, Zenobia O'Neill, and Glenola Vance received the Crown and Scepter honor certificates for high scholastic averages.

As time marched on, so marched the sophomore year, but not before the tenth graders began taking active parts in the sports, contests, dramatics, and various other organizations of the school. In the Carl Diton Choral Society were L. C. Edwards, Yvonne Ballentine, Dona Ford, Fannie Tomlin, Charlene Little, Fannie Bradley, Janet Macon, and Ann Martin.

Gladys Cox, Bobby Pennington, Calvin Price, Luther Berry, and Walter Little were members of the varsity basketball squad.

William Bryant, Thomasina Caraway, Loretta Murray, Dona Ford, Zenobia O'Neill took active parts in the discussion of the Public Speaking Club.

The class of '51 continued its history making progress as Robert Scales, William Bryant, James Kinard, Viola Hillian, Betty Hall, Vivian McLaurin, Willie Jackson, Marjorie McCollum, Azzaria Baxter and Zenobia O'Neill started the first Collectors' Club Scrapbook to be finished by later members of that club.

Great contributions were made in the field of athletics. Junior lettermen were Jerry Crews, Paul Kelly, Walter Little, Edward McCoy, John McDougal, Herman Wilson, Carrie Cunningham, Inez Hughes, Bobby Pennington, Calvin Price, William Bryant and Luther Berry.

Each time the curtains parted for a major dramatic club production, the juniors were well represented. Robert Scales, Donald Hawkins, Doris Bruce, Shirley Gaither, Dona Ford, and Thomasina Carraway appeared in dramatic club plays. For her excellent performance in "Here Comes Charlie", Olivia Green was named actress of the year.

Clarice Graham, Loretta Murray and Zenobia O'Neill attended Girl's State, State Crown and Scepter, and Y-Teen Conferences respectively.

Vivian Lewis, Clarice Graham, Glenola Vance, Evelyn Shipp, Josephine Audrey, Dona Ford, Loretta Murray and James Patterson were inducted into the National Honor Society of the school.

There was fun galore for all who attended the annual junior-senior prom of 1950, an occasion long to be remembered with "the good 'ole days at Atkins".

At last, the wonderful senior year!

At the homecoming game, it was a proud student body who watched the first uniformed marching band in the history of the school. Olivia Green, Clarene Barber, and Mildred Little were three of the first six drum majorettes. Many of the bandmembers were seniors.

A great number of the first members to wear the robes of the choral club are also seniors.

The class is well represented on the Maroon Wave Staff, in student government, dramatics and athletics. Edward McCoy, John McDougal, and Paul Kelly were placed on the All-State football squad. In the first talent programs class members displayed their talents in singing, dancing, speaking, and acting.

The class pays special tribute to those persons who have been called from their high school life to serve in the armed forces. These persons are James Webster, Frederic Watts, Cleveland Gilliam, and Willie Limus.

With the thought of leaving some class rings, class pictures, yearbooks, autographs, graduation, and goodbyes to high school life.

Though saddened with the thought of departure, the class of nineteen hundred and fifty-one hopes that from its history the future classes of Atkins High School might find inspiration.

Last Will and Testament

We, the senior class of 1951 of Atkins High School, realizing the uncertainty of lasting existence in this particular aforesaid spot, and being now of sound mind and sounder bodies, and about to pass out of this, our life at Atkins High School, do hereby make this, our Last Will and Testament.

ARTICLE I

To our parents, who have stood by us during these four years of trials and tribulations, we bequeath our sincere thanks and appreciation.

ARTICLE II

To Mr. Carter and the faculty we leave our sincere appreciation for their efforts to reform us.

Senior Class Prophecy

Come with me in my jet-propelled flying saucer of 1981, constructed by Willie Jones and piloted by Clifton Martin with co-pilot David Meadows, and we shall visit the members of the class of nineteen hundred and fifty-one of Atkins High School. I shall show you how each has achieved success and fame.

We'll begin our trip by touring the wonderful city of Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Here we find Collins Jordan as principal and Aaron Joyner as assistant principal of one of the local schools. His reputable staff of teachers includes Betty Hall, Vivian McLaurin, Josephine Charles, Vera Reid, Savannah Parker and Evelyn Bitting.

At Kate Bitting Reynolds Memorial Hospital, we find among the registered and surgical nurses Margaret McFarlin, Deborah Feaster, Jessie Kirkland, Lou Alma Ray, Catherine Hairston and Rosa Lincoln. Among the doctors we find Lannie Benson, Betty Smith, Alma Penn and Donzella Porter serving as obstetricians.

The "Ready Wear Fashion Shop", located on the corner of Church and Third Streets, is owned by John Williams, and its business adviser is William Miller. Acting as clerks and salesladies are: Mary Saunders, Mamie Hammonds, Marjorie Limus, Ruby Dunbar, Annie Sheffield and Elsie Scales.

Across the street is a large sign which reads: Grimsley's Business School". The owner is Luvelle Grimsley, the manager, Mary Richardson; and the instructors are Vera Hairston, Chiquita Dean, and Yvonne Ballentine.

On the outskirts of Winston-Salem there is a private school for girls founded by Patricia Lambert, Ph. D. Among her capable staff we find Rosa Wilson as home economics instructor; Betty Crump as Physical education instructor; Billie Boulware as music teacher; and Doris Bruce as teacher of special classes in home management.

Off we go into the wild blue yonder! We are now looking down at the L. Richardson Memorial Hospital in Greensboro, North Carolina. Here we find on the staff of expert doctors—James Patterson, Robert Scales, Phillip Evans, Jimmy Douthit and Roland Hanes. Serving as surgical nurses are: Alice Bradley, Doretha Shelton, Minnie Hailey, Mary Fields and Juanita Gaddy. In the dining hall is the excellent dietician, Carrie Cunningham with her well-informed assistants, Annie Floyd and Dorothy Roseboro.

Turn the dial for we must go onward! We are now looking down at North Carolina College for Negroes, Durham, North Carolina, where we find Loretta Murray, B.S., M.A., Ph. D., as head of the physics department. Also on the faculty we find Vivian Lewis the eminent English instructor and Eugene Roddy the distinguished professor of psychology and author of the well-read book, "Post Mortem Psychology." The registrar is the fastidious, but loveable, Glenola Vance, On her desk is the latest copy of the Ebony Magazine featuring as its paragon the charming and attractive Doris Williams, exhibiting the exquisite and fabulous creations of the world-famous designer, Loretta Hairston. Incidentally, these poses were taken in the magnificent and splendid Jade Room of the Hotel Garner, built by and named for the prominent factotum, James Garner. Hotel Garner is located in Salt Lake City, Utah; and the manager of this huge mansion is the empiric William Parham.

Before leaving North Carolina I'll take you to see—Oh we're flying over the home of Eldridge Alston, three times governor of North Carolina. His motto is: "Leave it to me, and I'll look out for myself." He is unmarried, but it has been previously rumored that he plans an early trip to the altar with Maggie Hairston.

Look over there at the Coliseum! There's a picture of the "Globe Trotters" with old faces I seem to recognize. They are Calvin Price, Bobby Pennington and William Bryant. Is that the—yes, the professional football team coached by Jerry Crews with his assistant coach, Herman Wilson. Some of the players on the team are: Joseph Harvey, commonly called the "Stonecrusher"; Walter Little, the "Hard Shelled Snail"; and Thomas Williams, the "Pryotechnics" (meaning fireworks).

That winged atomic controlled ambulance you see near the field belongs to Charles Hairston. He has a swift fleet of them. His funeral home has a frightful but rather harmless atmosphere. His customers bring him joy and sadness. Along with the funeral home he has the Right Rev. LeRoy Bell to give his customers that last step forward. Archie Love writes short, corny verses to be used as epitaphs.

Enough for North Carolina. We must continue our trip forward. We're at the Howard Theater in Washington, D. C., watching the world famous interpreters and modern dancers of Mildred Little perform the sensational "Ali Gay Ha Ba" (which when translated means the "African Midnight Rambler"). The group consists of Clarene Barber, Olivia Green, James Davis and James Kinard.

Over there in the Smithsonian Institute is a sketch of the instrument used in the curing of pediroscomovallie, the germ commonly called dandruff. These electrical instruments were invented by Willie Jackson and are in constant use at the "College Girl" beauty parlor operated by Barbara Blaylock. Her assistants are: Janie Crowder, Ida Massey, Mildred Howie, Burnie Sturdivant, Clarine Richardson and Virginia Crumblin.

Down the street is a Pediatrics Clinic founded by Imogene McKnight, M.D., a great lover of children. She has a dozen of her own. Her co-workers are: Marjorie McCollum, Viola Hillian, Virginia Rorie, Josephine Ardery, Doris Carrigan and Audrey Koger.

A quick change at Howard University reveals Fred Thornton as president of the institution and L. C. Edwards as vice-president. Lonnie Cockeram is dean of men. Some of the members of the faculty holding doctorate degree are: Robert Jordan, Ralph Allen, Kenneth Kirby, Henry Williams and Donald Hawkins.

Not far from the university is a firm of "Know Your Better Lawyers." The attorneys who are most familiar here are Charles Clifton, Ernest Lewis, Doris Sherard and Clyde Morrison.

A change of scenery reveals the House of Representatives and the new Congressmen as follows: James Garrett, Samuel Houston, John Blakney, Romeo Stukes and Thomas Mickens. Daniel Rice, who speaks all languages fluently, is our new ambassador to Russia. Each has been doing an excellent job in promoting the welfare of the American citizens at home and abroad.

As I turn the pages in the Movie Guide which lies beside me, a startling title strikes my eye—"Love Came At Last!"—an opera composed by Edythe Scott and produced by William Griffin, and starring: Clarice Graham, Fannie Tomlin, Mary Vestal, Austina Norris, Dona Ford, Joyce Rush and Ann Martin. At present this opera is being given in New York City, New York, at the Metropolitan Opera House. The eccentric costumes for this opera were designed by the world famous designing duet, Constance Newsome and Audrena Conrad.

As I look down, the bright lights, crowded streets and huge buildings only tell me one thing: I am now looking down at the center of the great metropolis, New York City. In the center of the gigantic city is a bright colored sign which reads: "Marriage License, Two Dollars Down!" Scribbled below in small letters is, "The rest is monthly payments. That's a real bargain! The only requirement is a bride and groom and we add all of the unnecessary trimmings."

The owners are Rosa Hawkins and Azzaria Baxter. The preacher is Herbert Stover; singer, Janet Macon; pianist, Regina Ray; and reporter for the "New York Times" is Zenobia O'Neil.

Directly across the street is one of the chain French-Chinese Restaurants owned by Roosevelt Potter and operated by Willis Black. The competent chef is the French-speaking William Bellamy, and the lovable Chinese-speaking pancake flapper is Genevieve Black.

Around the corner is a technicolor television studio. The workmen are now making preparations for that long awaited program, "Where Did Kilroy Go?", sponsored by Leon Sutton's "Six Way Economical Cold Tablets." (After one uses these tablets for curing his cold, he may dissolve them in hot water and use as Red Devil's Lye or dissolve in cold water and use as floor wax.) Starring in "Where Did Kilroy Go", (by the way Kilroy got confused with the directions on the bottle) are: Marjorie Linton, Jo Ann Richey, Doris Bruce, Gladys Cox, Thomasina Carroway, Edward McCoy, Cerento Martin and John Williams.

Immediately following this program Willie Stevenson and his quintet, consisting of Shirley Gaither, Inez Hughes, Leonard Williams and Shirley Addison, sing songs of the 'Ole West. This quintet became famous for its rendition of "Two Gun Mama!"

The dawn is approaching, therefore, I must hurry before my jet-propelled flying saucer of 1981 begins to fade into the mysterious unknown and I shall have no more power to pursue, since the dawn takes away all of my unearthly powers.

Farewell, and remember that our trip reveals that the members of this class will always headline the news.

MAROON WAVE STAFF

Flash! Copy! Proof!

Keep the presses rolling gang, the Maroon Wave must spread the Atkins' news.

The Maroon Wave Staff, supervised by Mrs. Lois Woodland, is the most instrumental factor in conveying to the readers of our school paper, the news of Atkins High.

The principal policy of the staff has been not only to furnish the readers of the Maroon Wave with the best, most up-to-date and informative news, but also to offer the best opportunity for aspiring journalists to get a strong background in news writing and reporting.

The staff publishes the Maroon Wave six times annually.

The spirit of cooperation has been manifested within the publication staff itself as the final results indicate.

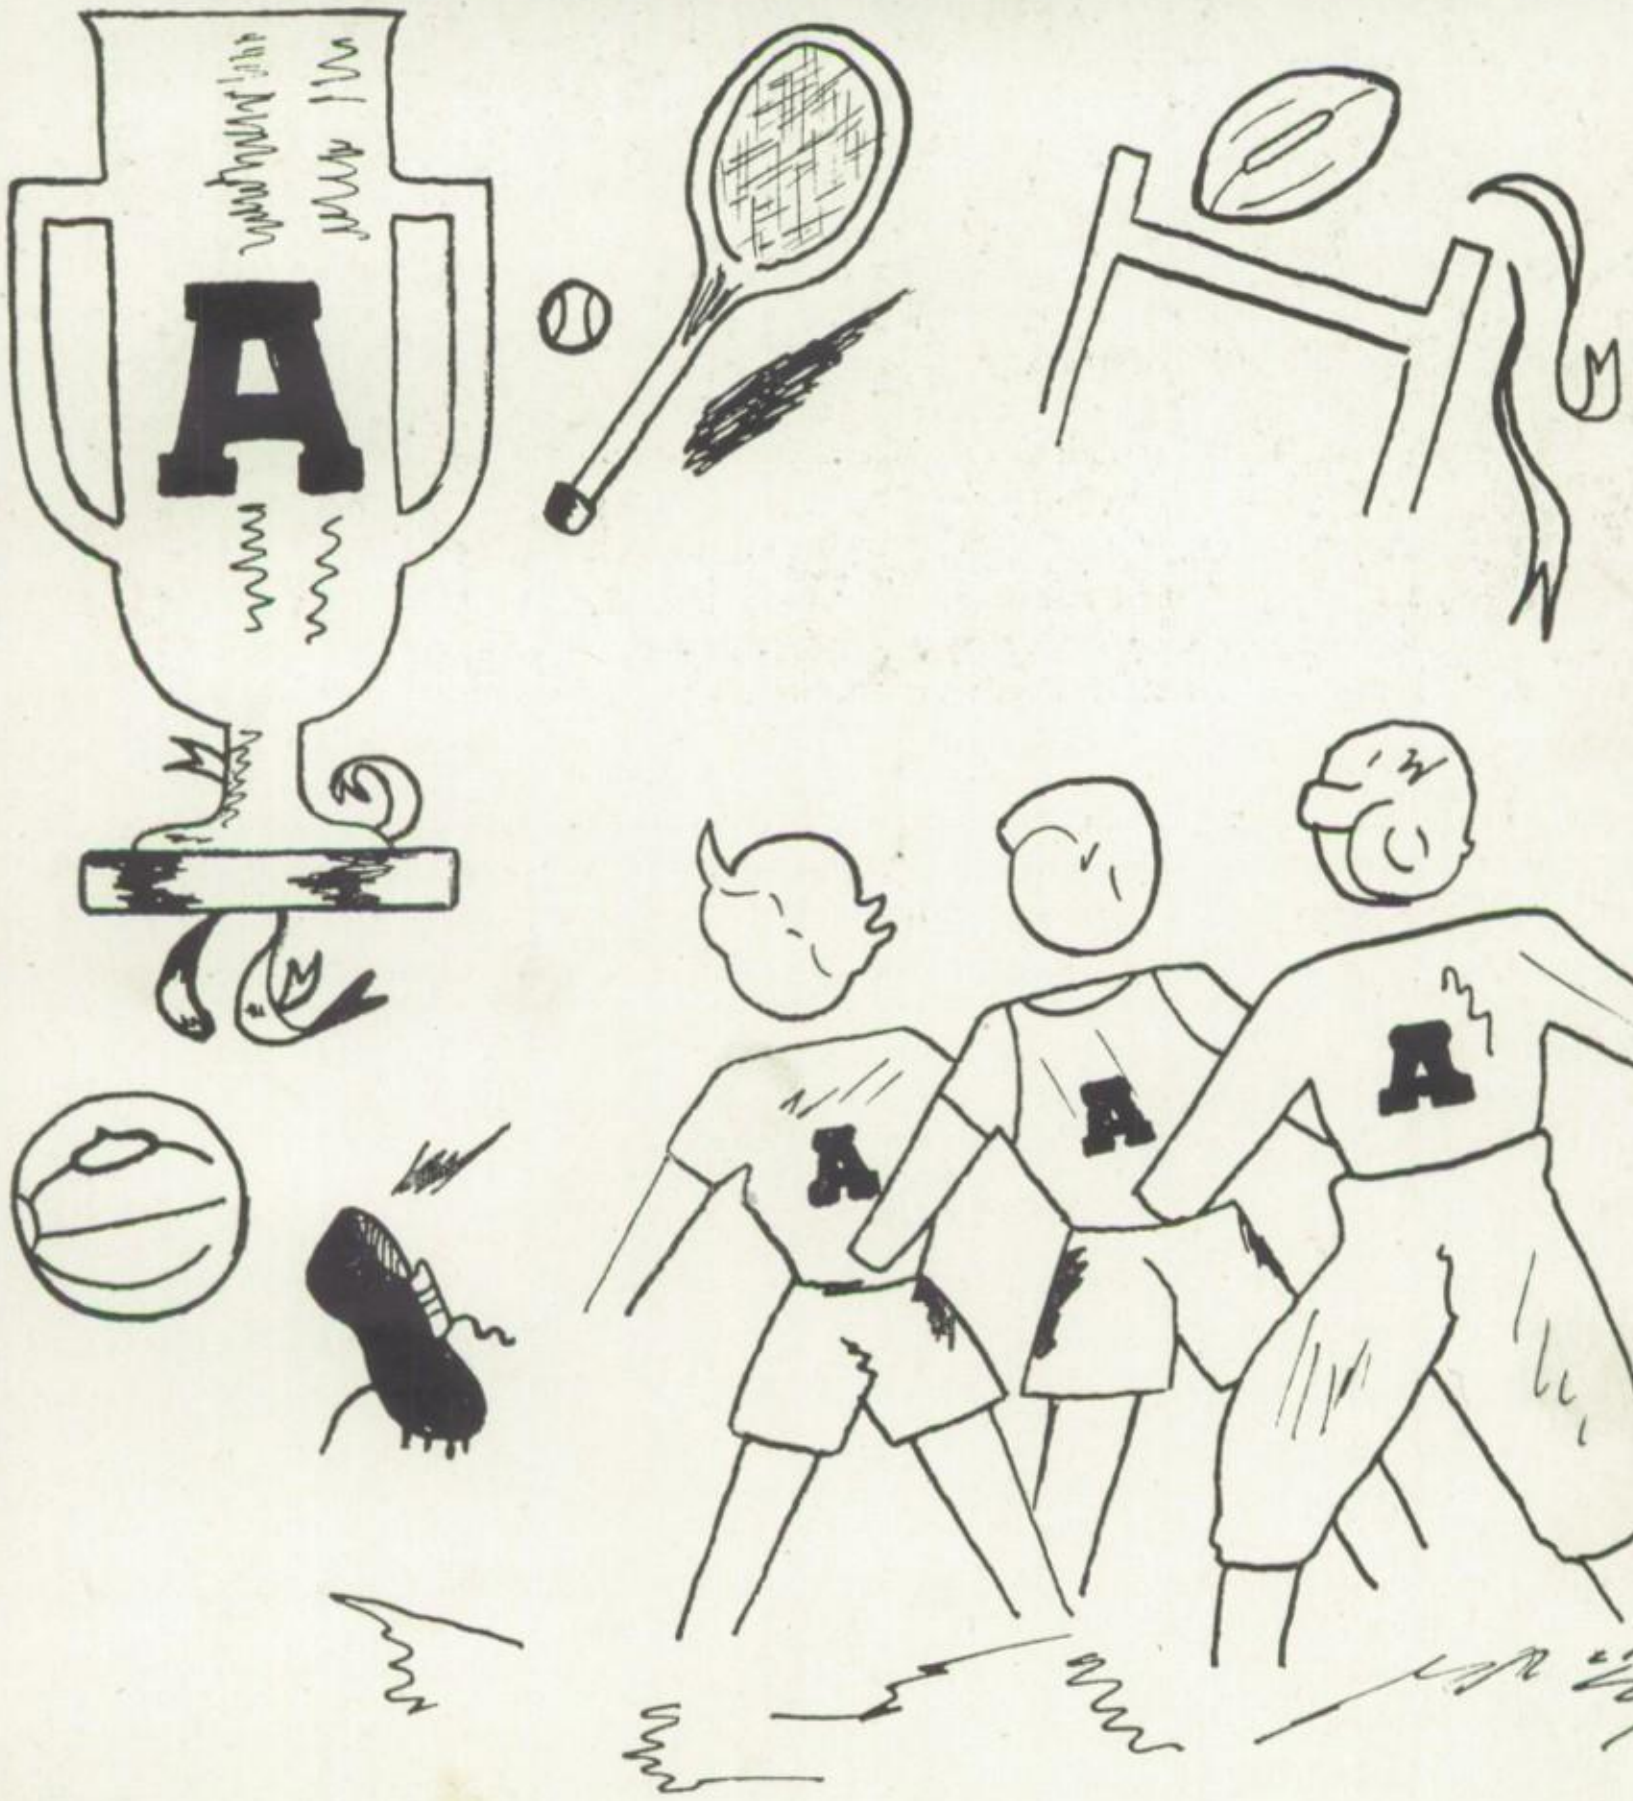
ATHLETICS



FOOTBALL, 1950

1st Row: Hennie, Hines, Moore, Wilson, Co-Capt. McDougal, Reeves, Sales, and B. Williams.
2nd Row: McKnight, Cuthrell, Crews, Sowell, Young, Purcell, Kelly, and Harvey.
3rd Row: Ruth, Brindle, T. Williams, Sutton, Vance, Griffin, Gilliam, and Tyson.
4th Row: Turner, Green, Thompson, Torrance, Lowery, Jackson, and Little.
Back: Coach Washington, Assistant Coach Ferrell.

Replacing such stalwarts as James, Webster, Charles Glenn, James Steen, Frank Joyner, Marcellus Penn and Walt Murray was no eask task for our coaches. The Camels' 1950 grid season was one of building due to loss of ten starters by graduation and the Armed Forces. With only one seasoned returnee, our attack was built around John McDougal, 1949 All-Stater and a triple threat back. Because of injuries and illness, McDougal never reached the topnotch peak of his previous years.

The brunt of attack was carried on mainly by new men who had very little experience and in some cases, no experience at all. The Camel gridders with nine letter men were led by four freshmen, two sophomore, two juniors, and three seniors.

Our season's record of two wins, four losses, and one tie in State competition does not indicate the potentialities of the Camels.

Coach Washington, on various occasions, was well pleased with the performanc eof the gridders and hopes the experience received last year will pay off with victories in '51. He appreciated the full support given football by the administration, faculty and students.

Added to the coaching staff this year was E. M. Ferrell, a graduate of Bluefield State College. His assistance in the backfield brought forth a potentially strong quartet of backs.

Second Row: Tanner, Hines, Vance, Peoples, Gilliam, and Williams

The 1951 squad was a surprise to all who knew just how inexperienced our boys were. With only Price and Pennington left from last season's pennant winners and the loss of David Harris who was groomed to fill the shoes of Lowery as our player-manager, it appeared that the Camels might be in for one of their season's worst records. Two pre-Christmas games with T. C. Frosh and Statesville revealed unusual talent among the ninth and tenth grade boys and showed evidence that by tournament time our cagers would have to be reckoned with. A varsity squad of fifteen players included three seniors, two juniors, two sophomores and eight freshmen was chosen. Another group of ten formed our first Junior Varsity and competed in the Elementary School League for experience only.

During the month of January our boys caught fire and seemed headed for another banner year, the latter half of the season substantiated what we had expected from the beginning. Due to a lack of experience and play-maker the team dropped five successive ball games by the small total of fifteen points. Any of these games could have been won if the boys had been a little more seasoned. A week prior to the Center Play-offs, our team picked themselves from the floor and wound up their season with an overall record of eleven wins and ten losses; in conference play it was ten won and seven lost. Seeded number two, Price, Pennington and Vance let our cagers to the State Finals by defeating Dudley, Salisbury and Wilkesboro by decisive scores. With our fingers crossed, we entered the finals at Durham for the third successive year, and here again our lack of seasoned veterans was a serious handicap. After an exciting victory over Rocky Mount, we lost to a hard fighting West Charlotte team.

Tribute must be paid to Calvin Price and Captain Bobby Pennington who for three years exhausted their energy and ability to keep the Aatkins team on top. These two lads rank with the leading athletes in Atkins' history, and to say we are proud of them is putting it mildly. We shall always be grateful to Calvin and Bobby for their fine spirit of cooperation, their sincere and honest desire to win for Atkins, and above all their clean sportsmanship for which our athletes are known and respected throughout the State.

Thus our 1951 season came to a close and left no regrets but confidence of a strong 1952 squad which should be capable of bringing to Atkins its first State championship. This article cannot end without comment about the "Hole", as we affectionately refer to our gymnasium. The construction of our new gym is a fitting epitaph for the "Hole" where Atkins Cagers lost fewer than twenty-five games over a period of twenty years. Of this record we are very proud, and we intend to maintain this type of play in the new Atkins Arena where all of us will be on hand to greet the 1952 edition of the Atkins Camels.
